(54) SALES MANAGEMENT DEVICE FOR GOODS WITH TIME LIMIT

(57)Abstract:

PROBLEM TO BE SOLVED: To prevent complication of a clerical job at a convenience store from occurring and to grasp sales achievement that receives price collection and to confirm a remaining quantity clearer and easier by equipping plural order devices for transmitting sales reservation data and a main device for storing and processing the sales reservation data.

SOLUTION: A sales entrepreneur receives a purchase application from a customer 10 and transmits purchase application data to a main device 12 by way of an order device 11. The main device 12 assigns a particular reception number to reception data and immediately returns them to the order device 11. A person who hopes purchasing goes to convenience stores (a) to (c) during an appropriate time band. The customer 10 who receives a barcode slip pays a necessary price at a payment counter. When the purchase price is received at a register, a store clerk turns on a confirmation switch. By this operation, the main device 12 updates data of the customer and returns them to the order device 11 of the sales entrepreneur. Thus, it is possible to confirm present remaining quantity at the order device 11.
